1. Chapter 1

It was a quiet and peaceful day at Alfea. This was mostly because it was Study Day. Study is the day when all fairies catch up on homework or work in general. But 2 particular fairies had finished all of their work, and they were Flora and Krystal. Flora wondered around the halls of Alfea to find something interesting to do but had no luck. She was feeling gloomy and sad and she had been like that for the past few days, or you could say she had been feeling like that since Krystal had arrived at Alfea. She had felt left out and useless. The fact that Krystal and Helia had known each other all their live had made Flora feel extra horrible. So she used this time to go to the Infirmary and get an excuse to sit in the private soundproof room so the nurses don't have to hear your cries of pain. But Flora used it as a room to cry and mope about the things that made her really sad. She came up with a list of different excuses to tell to the nurse so she could stay in that "private room" of hers, and no surprise it worked. So she stayed there crying so loud that her throat very sore but that still didn't stop her.

WITH KRYSTAL

Krystal was walking to the infirmary admiring the fresh air that breezed past her. She was a volunteer at the infirmary and was making tweaks to different things. (SORRY ABOUT THE WEIRD SPACING)

Krystal was making tweaks to the "private room" to make it more comfy for people who were staying there. She walked past the front desk and said a few hellos to all the nurses. She opened up the private room with the key and walked him. Immediately she heard the sad and loud cries coming from the resting bed. She walked cautiously to the bed and saw Flora wailing on the bed loudly. She stood there unable to move due to how shocked she was. It took a while for her to process the whole thing in her mind, but she had finally got an idea of why Flora was crying. Without hesitation she half walked half ran to the bed Flora was laying on. She brushed Flora's hair behind her ear and tried to calm her down. Flora was surprised Krystal would do such a thing that she stopped crying and stared at Krystal. Krystal could tell Flora was trying to find out why Krystal was comforting her but Krystal kept trying to calm Flora down. Then Krystal finally whispered. "It's me isn't it?" she asked almost certain it was. Flora could tell that Krystal already knew the answer but she kept quiet. Krystal understood why she kept quiet and shifted closer to her.

2. Chapter 2

The Surprise

Flora still stayed quiet she didn't want to talk because she didn't want to say anything to make Krystal mad. But she could tell that she already knew the answer.

FLORA'S POV

I was sitting down waiting for Krystal to break the silence, but she didn't and I knew why— she wanted me to answer. I knew couldn't escape this, I knew I couldn't run to the door and avoid her all day. So I nodded and quietly whispered "Yes". I waited for a reaction from her but I didn't get one, not even a stern look or a dramatic response. Instead Krystal reached out to her bag brought out a thick pop tart gesturing me to eat. "You to eat you look pale and your probably hungry ". I didn't want to just take it off her and eat without explaining I'm so upset about her, but I was hungry and I skipped breakfast today so I could choose which excuse to use to get access to the private room, but she stayed quiet and stared at the wall not facing Krystal.

KRYSTAL'S POV

Flora wasn't eating and I knew why, so I the put the pop tart down on the table. "flora you're going to have to say something sooner or later and you might as well speak now" I said slightly annoyed. She finally faced me and her red puffy eyes met mine. She finally spoke and with all the bitterness and venom in the whole of Alfea had entered her voice. "You it's all your fault minute you stepped inside of Alfea is exactly when my life got ripped up and fell in pieces, and one day I promise I will hurt you and I hope today is the day I hope every day is the day!".

FLORA'S POV

I reached for the knife in my pocket and I charged at her but the knife didn't make it. She had used her morphix shield to block the knife. She looked at me hurt and I knew that I had made a big mistake, but I wasn't going to admit that... not to her at least. She lowered her head and tears flew down her face. I knew it was a horrible thing to do but for some reason seeing Krystal cry that pleased me. I reached out grabbed her hand then yanked it back. I only did this to get her attention but I also wanted to hurt her more so I yanked her hand. She looked up at me HER eyes now red and puffy from crying, I narrowed my eyes at her still angry that she kept talking with Helia, still angry she even came to Alfea. I looked her in the eye and said "This is the day", she looked at me then whipped away her tears. "I understand why you did all that, I must have really got on your last nerve and I'm sorry please forgive me Flora all I wanted was to be you!". I sat there staring at her, studying her wondering why she would say something like that, but all that managed to escape my mouth was "What?". She looked at me and said. "I wanted to be like you, you're so calm and beautiful, you have amazing friends and an amazing life" she said as if it was the most obvious thing ever. Really?" I asked surprised. She looked at me and nodded. "Thanks!". I soon realized I had been so cruel and horrible for all of the wrong reasons. "I'm so sorry Krystal I just thought that all you wanted was to take Helia and everything away from me, I'm so sorry Krystal please forgive me now!" I was cut off from Krystal hugging me. I knew I didn't have time to act surprised so I hugged her back. "Flora I'm sorry I know I upset you, so then let me make it to you". I raised my eyebrows and asked "how?". She just smiled at me then began to eat the one of her pop tarts. She brought another one out and passed one to me. I was getting used to Krystal so I took the pop tart and said a polite thank you. Minutes of comfortable silence passed by until Krystal blurted out "I'm taking you out to Magix for a shopping spree!"

3. Chapter 3

Flora walked down the halls of Alfea trying to forget about the day Krystal walked in the infirmary, the day she automatically befriended Krystal. The very name Krystal filled her head with murderous thoughts, even though she had hugged Krystal and apologized, she had still wanted to cut through the amazingly spoiled drama queen. But a voice cut through her vicious thoughts, a voice she knew all too well. It was the cause of all her murderous and vicious thoughts, it was the drama queen herself. Surely at this point you already know who it is, so there is no point in saying the name of this so called drama queen. "Flora I have been watching you the whole morning and it seems as if you have been thinking about something very deeply, is something wrong". Flora plastered a fake smile across her face and thanked Krystal for her concern and tried to walk away. But Krystal grabbed Flora's hand and pulled her back to where she was before. Since Flora was already angry with Krystal, she quickly reacted to Krystal grabbing her hand. Flora grabbed Krystal's arm and twisted it while pushing it back, with enough force that Krystal slammed against the locker along with her arm. Krystal groaned and then rubbed her arm where it had been gripped on. She looked up at Flora in a confused and hurt way. "Why would you do that I thought we were friends!" Krystal half yelled half cried. "Well you THOUGHT we were friends, that didn't mean we automatically are friends, you can't always get what you want but that must be new to you, considering you're such a princess!" Flora yelled. Krystal knew that Flora was still angry so she didn't bother trying to reason with her, she just lunged at Flora angrily. Flora fell to the ground holding back her tears with a shield of anger and hatred. She kicked Krystal off her and stood up straight, then brushed off the dirt that had been collected by her clothes, when she was on the floor. "Girls in my office now!" Ms. Faragonda exclaimed. The girls followed Ms.

Faragonda to her office.

What will happen next well stick around and find out and please R&R. also please give me any ideas for what should happen next, and I haven't forgot about my other story I'm still working on it.

4. Chapter 4

Ms. Faragonda walked to her office boiling with rage, she stepped in her office before turning to Ms. Griselda and saying "You can go now Griselda, thank you for telling me about the fight that was going on between those two". Ms. Griselda nodded and left. The two stood there waiting to see what punishment they were too handle. Ms. Faragonda sat on her seat and began talking dangerously quiet.

"Girls do you realize what you have done could have left one of you dead, and many others injured at the level you two were fighting on, everybody was paralysed with fear, did you even think of how your foolish fighting could affect other fairies!". The headmistress shook her head before slamming her fist against the desk. This made Krystal and Flora jump, it was highly unlike Ms. Faragonda to slam her fist against her desk. Ms. F got up and walked over to the window.

"You have left a horrible dent in Alfea's perfect reputation, not only that but half of the school has locked themselves inside their dorms and refuse to get out until you two are gone!" Ms. F snapped. Krystal and Flora looked at each other than at Ms. Faragonda.

"I have no choice but to expel both of you permantly, but then again I am very proud of the work both of you have don't in the past, so I reasoned with the council and they have agreed to assign you both on a mission, if you pass the mission you may stay in Alfea with no punishment, but if you fail the mission you will be permantly expelled from Alfea, as I have said if you pass the mission you will get no punishment because the mission is punishment enough"
